

Here, you can write down your answer to:
“Where, or how, have I encountered beauty?”

.....

.....

.....

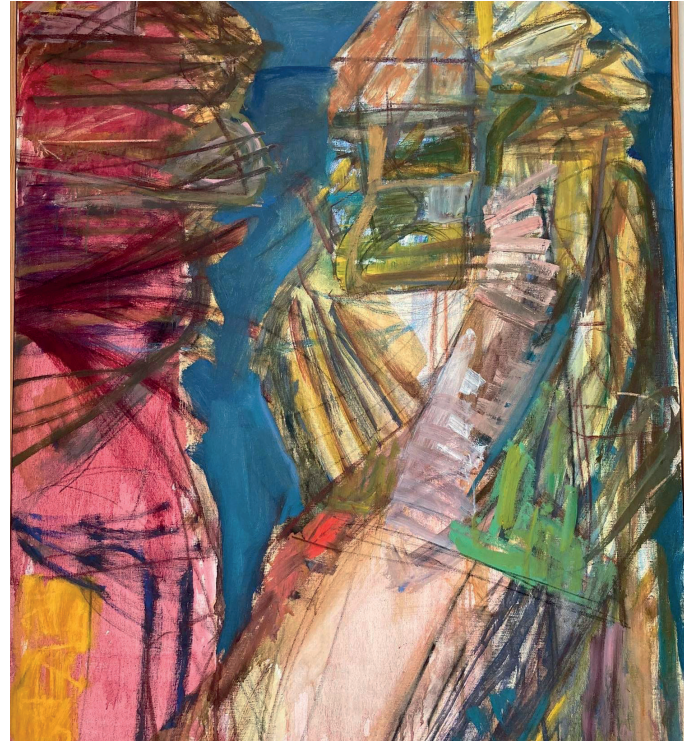

.....

picture on the front side: Ivan Kolman, Sermon by the Sea

Encounter Beauty in the City

A Theological Study Top, Praha, May 2022

Dear friends, welcome to today's meditative walk around Prague. Our goal for today will be to try and encounter b(B)eauty. On our way, three polarities will keep us company. Out of these, three sets of questions arise...

1. Beauty is revealed
Beauty is created

Is beauty a human creation?
Or is it transcendent to us?

2. Beauty is on the outside
Beauty is on the inside

Where can we find beauty?

3. Past beauty
Present beauty

Where did our ancestors search for beauty?
Where do we look for it?

Where have I encounter beauty?

During our walk, these polarities will be represented by three stops. But before that, we would like to give you a little something for the road, besides polarities and questions. That something is a task. You can complete it easily with your phone. Pick one of the three points (polarities/questions) and try to capture its expression or perhaps even its answer in a photo.

We would ask you to send us the picture by 12:00 to frantisek.stech@gmail.com

Please, also prepare a short (a few words or a single sentence) comment. Try to think of your comment, together with the picture, as your answer to the question: "Where, or how, have I encountered beauty?" When we'll have arrived back to Fortna, we will screen the pictures and you will have a chance to share your encounter.